

Chinese Society for Environmental Education (CSEE)
27th International Conference on Environmental Education
Education for Environment:
Engagement, Excellence and Civic Action

Conference Vision:

The theme of CSEE 27th International Conference is education for the environment. Through professional development and partners' learning communities in this year's conference, we hope to engage participants from various sectors – academia, governmental and non-governmental organizations, educational institutions and the general public – to cultivate friendly environmental attitude and create civic actions that promote excellence in science education and environmental education, natural resources conservation, community environmental management, pollution prevention, and sustainable development.
